

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox.

It had not dawned on me that Highway Director Ray Bass had his sights on an elective office, but it was puzzling that he was coming on so strong about various aspects of state government. Apparently he is doing it the best way—he has made no comments about running for office and therefore can just back off and be quite if the weather changes against him during the next few months.

It took an "expert" from one of the Carolinas to say what had been thinking about the public utility problems. He suggests Alabama have a law that requires the utilities to practice good management policies! As if now is, they don't care how much it costs to operate, because the law guarantees them a certain percentage of return on their money. If they double their expense, the profit is still tucked on the end—it is Alabama law. If the much-cursed Public Service Commission does try to stop such abuses under current law, the courts are required to grant the requested increases to give them the profit the law guarantees.

This fellow Sadat from Egypt has dominated the national and international news for the last week. Maybe he is editor is not "with it," but I have had more than enough Sadat to last me a while!

I read that the State Department of Education is planning to close some loopholes that allow some local "academies" to continue operating without meeting standards set for public schools. We salute this move and hope it works for the benefit of Alabama children.

I understand the headknockers at Dorsey Trailers have come up with another way to help our community. At Christmas time, it has become a custom for the company to give their employees and a lot of local people a turkey for Christmas. Well, the employees are still on the list, but so are other folks. They are reportedly being cut from the turkey list, and the money instead donated to the hospital, rescue squad, fire department and the cemetery fund. They normally make donations to all these, but the Christmas donation will be an additional gift. To me, the advantage to this is that everyone benefits from this type giving, where the turkey would only benefit those getting their feet under the table of the receiver. I hope the fire department, rescue squad and the hospital will use the money for some purchase that can be seen by the public and used for their benefit. Now this will probably cost the company more money, but Dorsey Trailers is continuing to grow and has long shown a desire to pull the community up with them as they progress.

All this above is talk as we haven't seen any actual checks, but our source at the plant is one of those "usually reliable sources" often quoted in the news media. In fact, our facts are so factual that it is almost a fact.

A group from the Elba Elementary and Middle School PTO are working to provide movies locally every Saturday night. They select family type movies and have acquired some professional type equipment. We sure don't quarrel with those who do business with our faithful advertisers in Opp and Enterprise, but we wholeheartedly endorse these movies. The first week Don Koots was a new graduated dentist who turned gunfighter out West. I wish a couple of my dentist friends could have seen that one. It reminded me of them. The second week was a dog story, and the tears were flowing from the teenage girls present when first one and then the other of the boy's dogs died. This week another interesting movie is promised. At least a hundred dollars is spent each week to provide these movies, and the presence of every additional person insures the continued showing of these movies.

GET THE FACTS

By Louise Stokes

"WOMEN HAVE DRINKING PROBLEMS, TOO!"

A major stumbling block in our efforts to reach out to help the woman alcoholic is the mistaken idea we have about what an alcoholic is, particularly a woman alcoholic. Recently I saw a movie entitled, "The Secret Love of Sandra Blaine," which brought this fact home to me. In the movie Sandra's secret love is a bottle, but the opening scene is deceiving. The scene is a cocktail party and the camera focuses on a concerned husband who is whispering to friends that he cannot find his wife. Almost immediately a door bursts open and in staggers an obviously drunk woman in her thirties. As her husband moves toward her, she knocks him out of the way and loudly demands another drink. While he tries to protest, she picks up a drink, lifts it to her lips, takes two faltering steps forward and falls flat on her face in front of the whole group.

My immediate reaction was, "Well, there's poor Sandra; she's an alcoholic." She certainly fitted the usual idea one has of the female alcoholic. She was loud and boisterous. She was wearing a revealing dress and too much make up. But I was deceived, as we are many times deceived by the stereotype we associate with the alcoholic woman. After this scene, this woman is never shown again. The camera then focuses on an attractive, modestly dressed young mother who has only one at the party and leaves early to go home to see about her two young children. After seeing that her children are safely tucked in bed, she proceeds to her kitchen, opens the cabinet, pours herself a stiff drink, and relaxes in the privacy of her home. This young mother is Sandra—she is the alcoholic. The movie follows her progressive deterioration through the loss of her husband and finally her children.

This opening scene presents dramatically a major problem we face in our efforts to reach women alcoholics. Because of the stereotype we have of the woman who drinks too much, we fail many times to identify problem drinking and alcoholism among those we love until the disease is in its final stages and the losses are great. We fail to identify the problem because when we think of women alcoholics, we look for loud, brassy, fishy, drunk drinking, "loose women." Suppose you have friend whom you feel may "drink a little too much." "But my friend," you say,

"couldn't be an alcoholic, she's a devoted mother." And there are a number of excuses. The problem is that she won't be "okay" if she is suffering from alcoholism, a progressive disease which never gets better, only worse, and which, if not arrested is fatal. An even more serious problem than your failure to identify your friend's alcoholism and try to help her is her inability to recognize her own problem and to seek help. While she still can. Because of our stereotype of the female alcoholic, your friend will tell herself the same things you think. Also because of this stereotype, the woman alcoholic will very carefully and very systematically hide her drinking from everyone as long as possible. Even if she knows she is in trouble with alcohol, she can't tell anyone because what people will think. And the end result for her, just as it is for Sandra Blaine in the movie, can be well that she loses everything near and dear to her, even her own life. Yet this loss is needless. Alcoholism is a treatable disease; it can be recognized and arrested in its early stages before it takes its toll both on the alcoholic and her family.

The goal of the Women's Task Force on Alcoholism, which is being spearheaded by the South Central Alabama Regional Council on Alcoholism, is to make the public aware of women like Sandra Blaine who are alcoholic and need help. If you have questions or would like confidential assistance, write or call South Central Alabama Regional Alcoholism Council, P.O. Box 1053, Andalusia, AL 36420. Phone 222-4755.

Math Teachers Attend Council in Mobile

The Alabama Council of Teachers of Mathematics hosted the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics of the Southeast Region in Mobile on November 10-12. Mrs. Mary Carnley and Mrs. Sue Adkinson attended and were the presidents for the Thursday afternoon sessions.

Mrs. Adkinson introduced Dr. Donald R. Byrkit of Pensacola, who spoke on statistics in high school—how much, what, and when?

Mrs. Carnley introduced Mrs. Pauline Curry of Pascagoula, Mississippi, whose topic was motivation through involvement.

Mrs. Curry served as parliamentarian and historian of the Alabama Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

Brantley Bulldogs Remain Unbeaten, Blast Repton 27-13

The Brantley Bulldogs marched into the semi-finals of the Class A football playoffs last Friday night by blasting the previously unbeaten Repton Bulldogs 27-13 in Brantley.

The win, which ups Brantley's record to 12-0, moves the Bulldogs into a semi-final match-up with Notasulga. The game will be played this Friday night in Notasulga at 7:30.

The two Class A powers swapped punts on their initial possessions of the game, with Repton ending up with the ball on their 25-yard line. The visitors woke the capacity crowd up by marching to a first down at the Brantley 22-yard line. The big play of the march was a 52-yard pass from Donnie Reed to Kenneth Hollinger. The "big green" defense stiffened, however, and stopped Repton on a crucial fourth down play at the 14-yard line.

Brantley was again forced to punt, giving Repton excellent field position near midfield. Repton couldn't budge the Bulldog defense, but backed the Dogs up deep in their own territory when Reed's punt rolled dead on the Brantley 3-yard line.

The Bulldog offense, which had yet to net a first down against the rugged Repton defense, finally began to show signs of life and drove 77 yards in only 9 plays to score the game's initial touchdown. A key play in the drive was a 49-yard scamper by Larry Dorsey. The tally came on a 5-yard run by Lavon Christian, and following Kenny Sorrells' extra point.

Brantley had the lead at 7-0 with 10:39 left in the half. Repton's first score was set up when Fred Rudolph picked off a Bulldog aerial and returned it to the Brantley 35-yard line. The touchdown came on a one-yard run by Donnie Reed, and Terry Wilson added the p.a.t. to tie the score at 7-7 with only 1:54 remaining in the half. However, the half was far from being over!

Repton recovered an onside kick, and put the ball in the air, only to see Brantley's Lavon Christian intercept a pass and return it to midfield. On the Bulldogs' first play, Larry Dorsey got the call, and raced down the sidelines 51 yards for a touchdown. The extra point was blocked, but Brantley had regained the lead at 13-7 with :53 left in the half.

Repton returned the ensuing kick to the Brantley 47-yard line, and two plays later the score was tied at 13-13! The Repton tally came on a 17-yard touchdown pass from Donnie Reed to Fred Rudolph. The extra point failed, and after a wild first half, the scoreboard read: Brantley 13 - Repton 13.

Brantley failed to move on their initial possession of the second half, but got a big break when Jim Ors recovered a Repton fumble at the Repton 34-yard line.

Brantley's Tony Pynes proved to be a "one-man wrecking crew" as he covered 32 of the yards on only 4 carries.

Pynes notched the score on a 5-yard run, and following Sorrells' extra point, Brantley was back ahead 20-13 with 5:06 left in the third stanza.

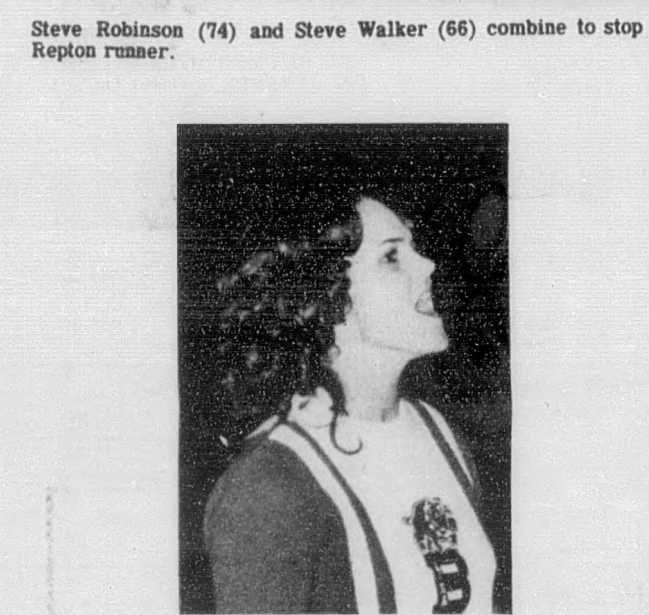

Following a Repton punt, the Dogs began their final touchdown drive of the night, marching 58 yards in only 6 plays to go ahead 27-13. Pynes and Dorsey this time split up the running yardage, with Pynes getting 25 yards and Dorsey gaining 33. Dorsey got the touchdown on a 22-yard scamper with 1:21 left in the third quarter, and after Sorrells again added the extra point, Brantley owned a 27-13 lead.

Brantley played a ball-control game in the final quarter, keeping the ball for 20 plays, as compared to only 10 plays for Repton.

The game ended with Brantley claiming a hard-fought 27-13 win!

Lisa Compton leads the fans in a cheer as Bulldogs rally to claim win.

Bulldog defense tightens as Repton's Steve Harris (11) tries to bull over for touchdown.

Tony Pynes (39) finds rough going against aggressive Repton defense.

Brantley's Larry Dorsey (22) looks upfield after taking pitch-out. Dorsey rushed for 221 yards in the Bulldogs' 27-13 win over Repton.

James Daniel (84) puts heavy rush on Repton quarterback Donnie Reed (12).

THE ELBA CLIPPER WILL FOLLOW THE BRANTLEY BULLDOGS THIS WEEK AS THEY TRAVEL TO NOTASULGA TO COMPETE IN THE SEMI-FINALS OF THE CLASS A PLAYOFFS. LOOK FOR A COMPLETE REPORT OF THE GAME IN NEXT WEEK'S PAPER.

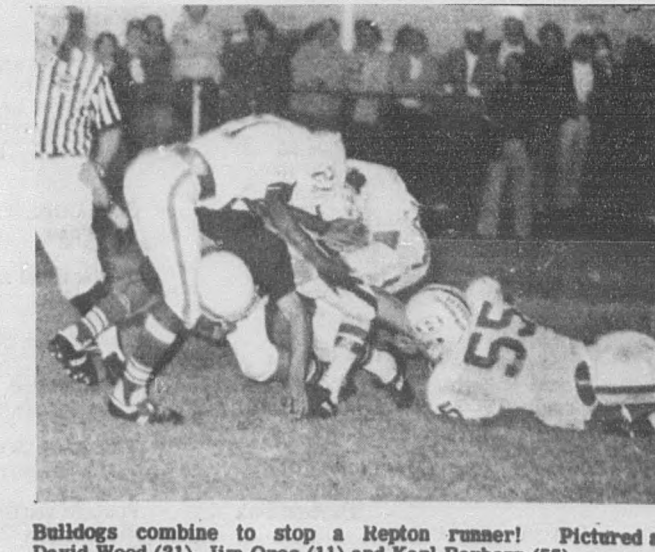

Kathy Finlay appears worried as Repton ties score at 13-13.

Bulldogs combine to stop a Repton runner. Pictured are David Wood (21), Jim Ors (11) and Karl Rayborn (55).

Larry Dorsey says "Brantley is No. 1."

THANKSGIVING

THE TRADITION OF FREEDOM....

OUR CHERISHED LEGACY

Freedom is a tradition in our great nation. From the earliest beginnings, the courage of our Pilgrim forefathers made it possible. The will and faith of our people have kept it alive. It will remain ours with vigilance and dedication. So the past, the present and the future are inextricably woven together. Through freedom. Today we give thanks for this precious legacy. We cherish our tradition.

We pray that freedom will become the inalienable right of all nations.

Local News

New Brockton

Students Win

Essay Contest

The local winners of the 1977 Voice of Democracy Essay Scriptwriting Contest are pictured above. The essay was a three to five minute speech, consisting of the students' views and opinions about their responsibility to America. Winners are as follows: 1 to 3: Third place, Sandy Gouge; Second place, Janora Creel; First place, Jennifer deVaughan. The prizes consisted of certificates of merit, savings bonds and medals.

Joey Johnson Is Student Of The Month At New Brockton

Eighth grader Joey Johnson of New Brockton has been chosen as November's "Student of the Month." He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Rainey. The New Brockton High School has established this "Student of the Month" program, and the Student Government Association selects five nominees. From these, the faculty elects the honored student. To be eligible for nomination, the student must have acceptable grades, a sound character, model student behavior, regular attendance, and must have contributed to the betterment of the school body in any area which is outstanding and admirable. Besides being an excellent student academically, according to his classmates, Joey is the personification of "helpfulness." He works in the concession stand at ball games, is responsible for the flag's flying at the school each day, and runs errands willingly. His friendly greeting and contagious smile left everyone's spirits at New Brockton High School.

Sophia Johns Among 4-H's To Compete In Chicago

Four Coffee County 4-H'ers are among 44 National 4-H project champions who will attend the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, November 25-December 1.

Those from Coffee County earning the expense-paid trip are Leslie Hussey, 16, Elba, Rt. 1, for his swing project; Sophia Johns, 15, Elba, Rt. 1, achievement; Debbie Middleton, 18, Chancellor, Rt. 1, food conservation and safety; and Randy Wilson, 15, Jack, Rt. 1, home environment.

The Alabama delegation will take part in a week of meetings, seminars and educational tours in Chicago. Dr. Cecil Mayfield, state 4-H leader at Auburn University, says that over 1600 4-H'ers from across the nation will attend the Congress.

Leslie, the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Hussey, will compete in Chicago for one of six $1000 scholarships to be given by the National 4-H Council, Chicago.

Sophia, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Johns, will compete for one of nine $1000 scholarships to be awarded by the Ford Motor Company Fund.

Debbie will vie for one of six $1000 scholarships to be awarded by Reynolds Metals Company, Richmond, VA. She is the daughter of Mr. and
